Vita Coco Spiked with Captain Morgan to bring adult consumers convenient ways to enjoy delicious tropical drinks, powered by two category-leading brands in the fast-growing ready-to-drink space

NEW YORK--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Diageo, a global leader in beverage alcohol, and The Vita Coco Company, a leading high-growth platform of non-alcoholic beverage brands, today announced their collaboration to launch a line of premium canned cocktails crafted with a delicious blend of Captain Morgan rum and refreshing-tasting Vita Coco coconut water. With Captain Morgan having the #1 selling spiced rum brand¹ and Vita Coco as the #1 selling coconut water², this relationship brings together two category-leading brands.

"Cocktail drinkers are looking for convenient ways to enjoy high quality classic tropical drinks, especially rum-based ones," said Debra Crew, President, Diageo North America. "As we continue expanding our ready-to-drink portfolio, we consider ways to elevate the category, and it just made sense to marry together two premium brands that are loved by consumers around the world."

In the United States, beloved rum-based cocktails are growing at 269%³, with widely recognizable piña coladas, daiquiris, and mojitos leading as the most dynamic cocktail types and growing at a faster rate than the entire spirits-based ready-to-drink category.⁴

"Consumers in tropical regions have been enjoying coconut water as a great-tasting, high quality mixer in their cocktails for generations," said Mike Kirban, Executive Chairman and Co-Founder, The Vita Coco Company. "Now that coconut water is becoming a household staple across the United States, we wanted to make creating a delicious cocktail a few steps easier. We're so excited to partner with Diageo to offer some great, ready-to-drink options featuring the best of both worlds: Vita Coco and Captain Morgan."

Called Vita Coco Spiked with Captain Morgan, the spirits-based line will be available in three delicious offerings, all starting with a perfectly balanced blend of iconic Captain Morgan Caribbean white rum and Vita Coco's refreshing-tasting coconut water:

- Piña Colada – finished with the flavor of fresh ripe pineapple, creamy coconut and dark rum notes
- Strawberry Daiquiri – finished with the flavor of fresh picked strawberries, ripe juicy lime and fruity rum notes
- Lime Mojito – finished with the flavor of fresh muddled garden mint, ripe juicy lime, and a touch of simple syrup

Vita Coco Spiked with Captain Morgan cocktails will be 5% ABV and sold in 12oz cans for a suggested retail price of $14.99 per 4-pack. The line is expected to hit shelves in early 2023 and will be available across the United States wherever spirits-based ready-to-drink beverages are sold. All cans of Vita Coco Spiked with Captain Morgan will feature clear symbols clarifying that they are only to be enjoyed by consumers who are of legal drinking age. Diageo will produce, distribute and market Vita Coco Spiked with Captain Morgan products.
